METHOD OF INSTRUCTION

The method of instruction will include lectures, studio demonstrations, project development, individual instruction, in-class exercises, group discussions, and critiques. Examples are presented when important to describe course content. Class projects and procedures are the focus of many course discussions.

EXPECTATIONS

Lectures, demonstrations and general class participation are an important aspect of this course. Your participation during critiques and exercises is expected. Lectures and related information will be given once-they will not be repeated. For unexcused absences, students need to make arrangements with fellow classmates or search the class website for content missed. Note taking during lectures and demonstrations is necessary. Due to the course load, you will be required to spend time outside of class developing your projects.

You may check your email and work on other projects during breaks and open lab time-not during class time.

ATTENDANCE

Each student is responsible for the material presented in class, therefore regular attendance is expected. In order to keep up with all lessons and the general pace of the class it is essential that you arriving promptly and remain for the scheduled class period. Leaving class early without permission will result in an absence marked for that class period. Three tardies will equal one unexcused absence. Consistent lateness and absences will result in a lower grade for the semester. If there is a severe family problem, a long-term personal illness, or something else that may interfere with the course, please discuss this with me as early as possible so that we can develop a strategy.

If a student misses six or more classes, they will receive 0% for Class Participation.

INSTRUCTOR ABSENCE

In the event of the instructor's absence, college policy requires students to wait 15 minutes before leaving.

GRADING

You will be completing three projects in the span of the semester. Class participation will also contribute to your final grade.

| Olympic Pictograms | | | 10% |
|---------------------|--|--|-----|
| Company Logo | | | 30% |
| City Tourism Logo | | | |
| Class Participation | | | |
| A: 90–100% | | | |

D: 60–69% F: 0–59%

A project sheet and rubric will be uploaded to the class website that corresponds to each project.

Missing a deadline will result in a full letter grade reduction for that project unless there is a valid medical reason or a family emergency.

Any student missing the final semester critique or not turning in a final project without prior permission will have a full letter grade taken off the final semester grade.

STUDENT CONDUCT CODE

Every student is expected to be familiar with and abide by the UH System Student Conduct Code. The Student Conduct Code states: "The University expects students to maintain standards of personal integrity that are in harmony with the educational goals of the institution; to respect the rights, privileges, and property of others; and to observe national, state, and local laws and University regulations."
